Costly Road Building. Reports from Hawaii are to the effect that in the Kona district a force of twenty-seven men worked for fourteen days building and macadamizing sixty feet of road and that they felt so well over their successful road building that they gave a luau and enjoyed the same while drawing full pay from the county of Hawaii at the rate of One Dollar and twenty-five cents per day while they were at the luau.

This is at the rate of nearly forty-five thousand dollars per mile and is without question the most expensive road building in the territory.

Had the road been of any service after its completion it would not have been so bad but the macadam had been heaped up so high in the middle of the road that when a team driven by A. J. Maguire passed over the road it was so dangerous that he narrowly escaped a serious accident.

If the reports are true it is no wonder that the Judge of the Circuit Court so severely criticised the methods there in his charge to the grand jury.

The wireless messages from Honolulu would also indicate that Oahu is having its trouble with one of its road overseers who drew the pay for the men and then neglected to pay the laborers.

County government is a success only where honest and efficient men are in office and it is doubtful if the Home Rule aggregation of Hawaii who fill most of the offices there are up to both of these requirements.

Maui has had so far an honest and in most cases efficient officers for which reason county government here has been a success.

Much criticism has been indulged in regard to our roads, some of which was just and much of which was without foundation. We certainly have not built any $45,000.00 per mile roads that could not be traveled over nor have any of the laborers on the roads been kept out of their wages. It is to be hoped that in future we will be as fortunate as we have in the past.

A Foolish Controversy. Last Sunday a number of leading Japanese, of Wailuku formed a volunteer fire company for the better protection of property in town.

They have made application to the board for recognition and a controversy has arisen to whether it would be proper to admit them on account of their allowing none but members of their race to become members of that company.

It seems to us that the one thing desired in case of a fire is to extinguish it as soon as possible. The owner of property doesn't care bit whether the fire is extinguished by a Haole or a Jap, a Hotentot or a Hindu.

What all of us want is to get the fire out as soon as possible and if the Japanese are willing to assist by all means accept this services. To refuse it in case of need would be as absurd as the act of two Boston ladies who when out boating on a lake saw a young man near them drowning and refused to assist him for the reason that he was not provided with full dress.
